

General Information

Ambur Municipality was constituted in the year 1948 as Third Grade Municipality. It is consisting of three villages, namely Ambur, Melkrishnapuram and Sanankuppam and the extent is 17.97 sq.km. This Municipality was special Grade Municipality. Since at present 36 wards in this Municipality. Ambur located on the Southern Banks of Palar River. NHAI called Ranipet – Krishnagiri passess through this town which connects with two metropolitan cities viz, Chennai in the East and Bangalore in the west. It is well connected with the adjoining Urban centers located like Vaniyambadi, Gudiyatham, Pernambut, Thirupattur and Jolarpettai.

Infrastructure

Infrastructure requirement for the current population and projected 2025 are assessed based on the population projections and basic norms for different services. The population assumed for assessing the requirements that are current - 99264 and 2025 - 1,40,200. The norms are assumed as per-capita figures for water supply, as density for street lighting, and as percentages for other services. The current growth needs are expressed as total units for each service sector. The table shows the norms, existing levels and infrastructure requirements for the current and projected population.

Bus Stand

The Municipal Bus Stand was situated in Chennai to Bangalore National Highway NH7 Centre place of town and it is near to Railways Station at a time of 25 buses may be inside the bus stand.

Agricultre

Agricultural activities are found in the town on the Palar River basin area.

Transport

This town is having a good transport facilities for all directions through NHAI & NH, Major district road and village roads. This roads are giving access to surroundings important towns link Vaniyambadi, Tirupattur, Pernambut, Gudiyatham and Vellore. It also connects metro cities of Madras and Bangalore. Important Railway line also passess through this town. Ambur Railway Station is importance for business oriented. Most of the trains are halt at this station.