

Brief History

Komarapalayam town was upgraded as third grade Municipality from the status of town Panchayat on 30.03.1978 and subsequently upgraded as Second grade Municipality from 17.04.1984. Now it is functioning as First grade Municipality as per G.O.M.S.No.634, Municipal Administration and Water Supply Department dated 05.07.1990. It has a population of 71594 (2011 census) and an extent of 7.10 Sq. Km., as per Survey and Land records. The town is divided into 33 wards. The Municipal Council comprising of 33 ward councillors is headed by Chairperson, who is elected by voters of the town. The councillors elect a Vice-Chairperson among them. The executive wing is headed by a commissioner and he is assisted by a team of officials like Sanitary Officer, Municipal Engineer, Town Planning Inspector, Manager, Revenue Inspector and other officers.

The annual anticipated income of the town is 5.40 crore and the expenditure is 4.40 crore. Komarapalayam is a textile town situated on the bank of the Cauvery river, Bhavani River of South India, and is a taluk of Namakkal District, Tamil Nadu, India. However, Bhavani belongs to Erode district. Kumarapalayam is famous for its textile industries. Komarapalayam is also called as 'Kumarapalayam' Kumarapalayam and Bhavani are twin cities separated by the Cauvery river. However, Bhavani belongs to Erode district. Kumarapalayam is famous for its textile industries. Kumarapalayam is the capital of Powerloom. So that, it can also be called as Textile Town. As of 2011, the town had a population of 71,594.